

Black History Month resources

Black History Month takes place in October and is an annual celebration of Black history, arts and culture in the UK. Here equality4success has collated resources so you can learn about why we celebrate and what key issues BME scientists still face.

About Black History Month and Black history in the UK

Black History Month

Black history matters to everyone – it's a crucial part of our nations' story The Guardian

2019 Black History Month Cambridge programme of events

Black British History

The National Archives: Black British history on record

BME scientists' experiences

Black History Month: Science and Medicine

'Teachers wanted me to be a nurse': Space scientist Maggie Aderin-Pocock on smashing stereotypes

The Telegraph

I can't wait until I'm no longer waiting for the first Black scientist to win a Nobel Prize Imperial

Medicine Blog

'A demeaning environment': stories of racism in UK universities The Guardian

Thriving as a black scientist Science Council

Why are there so few Black women in science Advancement Deeply

Women of color in STEM face greater risk of gender, racial harassment at work USA Today

Inspiring Scientists: videos and report The Royal Society

Organisations

Runnymede Trust

Black British Professionals in STEM

Stephen Lawrence Charitable Trust

Black British Academics

Race Equality Foundation

Advice on how to be an ally to Black and ME people

Did you really just say that? American Psychological Association

White Ally Toolkit

5 initial ways you can be a better ally to people of color

How you can be an ally in the fight for racial justice

Guidelines for Being Strong White Allies